Dear Trinitarians

A fantastic week at Trinity. I hope you have all had the chance to see the amazing art work on exhibition in the primary reception area. The secondary art team have started working on an international woman's day display at the secondary, which will be amazing when complete. International Woman's Day is celebrated on the 8th of March every year celebrating the social, economic, cultural and political achievements of woman.

You will have noticed on the primary blog that there has been a lot of geography going on this week. Year 3 headed to Creekside in Deptford to continue their learning on rivers. Year 4 have been focused on looking at map skills, particularly 6 figure grid references. You will also notice later on in this newsletter that all the pupils in year 9 and 10 have been looking at how the geography and history of Rwanda led to the Genocide, but also how the country is moving forward from this past.

Yesterday was World Book Day. You would never have guessed!!! The character costumes were absolutely amazing, extremely creative. I hope no one was too scarred of the various monsters roaming the building from Where The Wild Things Are! Favourite books were shared at the secondary with a large book review completion that led to 60 books being given to pupils to celebrate the day. It is wonderful when the whole school community comes together – thank you for all your support.

I know you will have been watching the news carefully following the information being given about COVID-19. Personal hygiene is the most important way we can tackle this, especially washing hands more; and the catch it, bin it, kill it strategy for those with coughs and sneezes. The school has continued to be vigilant, ensuring deeper cleans are carried out, and reminding pupils of their personal hygiene. Please do continue to push this at home. We have daily updates from the Public Health Care England, the Department for Education, Southwark Diocese and Lewisham Local Authority to ensure we are on top of current recommendations. Schools have a hotline to ask any questions and to get advice. This hotline is for Schools, but also parents and young people to contact if they have any questions. Their number is 0800 046 8687. They are open from 8am until 6pm Monday to Friday.

We thank you once again for your amazing support, have a wonderful weekend

Dates to diarise

SECONDARY PHASE

Year 9 Parents Evening: Wednesday 11th March : 15h30 – 18h30

PRIMARY PHASE

Science Fair on Thursday 12th March AT 15h15 – Downstairs hall at Primary

This week at Trinity we focused on how Jesus teaches insight and how we can develop insight in others. In our secondary worship Rev. Bridget reminded us all about the importance of developing insight into ourselves and each other. At the primary we reflected on the need for water and its importance in our lives and how Jesus' love is like water. Across both sites this week we have been working hard to complete out #live lent challenges and each day all pupils have been looking at the challenges. I have heard some brilliant examples of parents and children working hard to turn off electricity and help save the planet.

A 40-DAY CHALLENGE

God of the Trinity Secondary School May our lessons light our learning and progress
 May we love our neighbours as ourselves,
 May we have courage to live good lives,
 So that we are outstanding Trinitarians.
 Amen

Dear Trinity families,

This week we have celebrated World Book Day as we always do; by sharing our favourite stories, representing our favourite characters and immersing ourselves in the world of a book as a whole school. Our reading assembly was focused around Mr Janes' favourite picture book- Where the Wild Things Are- and each class produced a piece of writing inspired by the story. Make sure to look out for the new display soon!

Next week is also Science Week. Like always, Ms Stevenson will be kicking off the week with a science assembly and each class will carry out several fun and exciting experiments set out by the British Science Association. We will be holding our Science Fair on Thursday 12th March in the downstairs hall. The fair will start straight after school so make sure to bring your experiment with you to set up.

Next Friday is also Sports Relief and we will be celebrating that this year by coming in our sports clothes and taking part in the 'Beat Beethoven' campaign- organised by our PE lead, Miss Gibbins.

I would also like to say that it is important to read the rest of the newsletter this week as there is a message directly from Miss K, who will be sadly leaving us after May half term.

As always, I wish you the very best of weekends, full of rest and fun, ready for learning on Monday.

A Message from Miss K

Dear Trinity Families,

I am very sad to say that I will be leaving Trinity this year. I have been given the opportunity to live and work abroad and after May half term I will be moving to Hong Kong.

My time at Trinity has been extremely special and I have loved being a part of growing this truly wonderful school. Under Mr Janes' leadership, I have been able to be part of the journey that has made Trinity the school it is today and a school that I am extremely proud of. With his vision and passion, we have been able to create a school where all children are loved and believed in - something I will take with me wherever I go.

Our journey over the last 5 years has seen us become one of the most talked about schools in the area; we have been able to create a whole new curriculum that is tailored for our children and we have been able to see a building, that was once very large and empty, become a full school, bursting with terrific Trinitarians. I am extremely grateful that I was given the opportunity to be a part of that journey.

I would like to say thank you to all of you; you are so warm and welcoming and have made standing on the gate every morning a real pleasure - even in the rain! Your support of the school and pride in also being Trinitarians has made my time here even more rewarding.

Watching our 'little Year Twos' flourish into the mature Year Sixes they are today has been a personal highlight of my time at Trinity. I am very proud of all of them and know that next year they will go on to become confident, strong young people and always be Trinitarians at heart.

I know that Trinity will continue to grow. The staff are all amazingly dedicated and care so much about the children and I look forward to hearing about the new successes and achievements in the future.

Best wishes,

Miss K

ALL PARENTS – FUTURE OF MUSIC

The government are seeking views on music education to inform proposals for a refreshed national plan for music education.

They would like to hear from young people and their parents and their experience and what they would like to see in the National Plan.

If you would like to have your say on the future of Music Education, then please do complete their questionnaire by 13th March: <https://www.gov.uk/government/consultations/music-education-call-for-evidence>

What's going on this week?

Joe Brindle, age 17 from Devizes School, is a founder member of Teach the Future. The group are recently formed and are taking their call for environment issues to be taught in schools as part of the curriculum to Parliament! Ministers have agreed that "it is vital that pupils are taught about climate change" but the group believe that schools are failing to prepare them for a climate emergency.

YEAR 8 VISIT PARLIAMENT

On Thursday, Ms Di Ricci and her family group were lucky enough to secure a tour and workshop at the House of Parliament, Westminster.

The day started with a tour of the main building, and we all had a wonderful surprise when it turned out that this included access to the viewing gallery in the House of Commons itself! The students loved seeing the famous green benches and the MPs discussing International trade which got surprisingly interesting when a question about Scotland arose and there was some heckling. We also got to see the first commons MP to wear a hijab, Apsana Begum.

We then took part in an interactive workshop about methods of protest – starting with a film and quiz about the Women’s Freedom League (part of the suffragette movement), and then ending with the students forming small groups and doing research and presentations on different methods of protest.

We ended the day with the privilege of being asked to directly feed into the current inquiry by the House of Lords Social and Economic Impact of the Gambling Industry Committee. Watch out for the final report being published later this year, you may even see Trinity given a name-check!

The Houses of Parliament have another name

Whilst most people know this location as the Houses of Parliament, it has another name, and one which is actually far older than its current incarnation.

Once known better as the Palace of Westminster after it was built during the 11th century, the main building here was once a large royal palace. This original structure was badly damaged by a fire in 1512, and then completely destroyed by a subsequent fire in 1834. After this enduring damage, it was replaced with a more robust structure.

Trinity pupil secures Math's Scholarship to Babbington House

Congratulations go to Mia Rustem in Year 11 who has secured a 100% Math's scholarship to Babbington House. Mia came to Trinity in 2015 and has studied diligently over her time here at Trinity. Ms Di Ricci is extremely proud of Mia's achievement. All at Trinity wish Mia every success for the future and we will endeavour to keep track of her academic progress. Well done Mia.

BOOK REVIEW

This week pupils were encouraged to write a book review for our world book competition. Sixty books from various authors were purchased as prizes for pupils across all year groups. Those pupils selected to win a book prize can choose a book of their choice from the selection of books written by 30 different authors.

HUMANITIES INTERDISCIPLINARY PROJECT YEAR 9

For the last two weeks pupils in Year 9 have been completing an interdisciplinary project. (History & Geography) on Rwanda. These projects are designed to enable pupils to make crucial links between the two disciplines in the examination of the geo-political landscape of a named region.

The project involved an in-depth study of Rwanda including its pre-colonial history, colonial history, recent history and its future challenges; all placed within a geographical context. Pupils studied maps, historical evidence, genocide survivor accounts and contemporary literature.

The project culminated in a debate involving the whole class. Pupils had three arguments to pick from.

1. "The Hutus are solely responsible for the 1994 genocide"
2. "The physical geography of Rwanda means conflict was and will be inevitable".
3. "Chinese involvement in Rwanda's economic development is another form of colonization (neo-colonialism)"

Y9A Geography selected debate number 1 "The Hutus are solely responsible for the 1994 genocide". After a heated debate between the extremists, the moderate Hutus, the Tutsis, the UN and the International War Crimes Tribunal pupils voted to disagree with the motion and that the fact the true causes of the conflict are very long and complex and cannot be diluted down to such a simple argument.

We look forward to the next project at the end of April which will focus on the history and geography of Lewisham.

Sam arguing against the motion. He argued that tensions could be traced back to German colonization of the region
